Demographics

The City of Lexington seeks diversity among the membership of its volunteer boards and commissions through inclusive efforts that are reflective of our community. Diverse board membership encourages the exchange of different perspectives and supports social equity in communities. Therefore, it is a priority of the City of Lexington to increase diversity among the membership of its boards and commissions.

In addition, some boards and commissions require membership to be racially, politically, or geographically proportionate to the general public. The following information helps track our recruitment and diversity efforts.

Monica Calleja

Biography

callejamonica5@gmail.com

Monica Calleja was born in Mexico City. She studied and graduated from Mexico's National Polytechnic Institute as Chemical Bacteriologist and Parasitologist. Monica and her family arrived in Lexington in 2001. She studied at Bluegrass Community and Technical College and in the University of Kentucky's College of Social Work. Since 2007, she has collaborated with the Foundation for Latin-American and Latin@ Culture and Arts and Latino Leadership, Latino Leadership & College Experience Camp, and other organizations on community programs. In 2013, she founded the Casa de la Cultura Hispana de Lexington (House of Hispanic Culture of Lexington, known as Casa de la Cultura Ky). CCHL is a non-profit organization that seeks to unify and empower the Latin-American community through educational and recreational programs. Since founding CCHL, Monica has taught Mexican folk dance to children and adults, coordinated dance performances at community events, and taught crafts such as piñata-making, cornhusk crafts, and Alebrijes sculptures. Monica currently serves at CCHL as Director of Programs and Events. CCHL encourages youth to learn about and dive deep into their own native cultures to strengthen their identity and pride, important personal assets that many young immigrants and children of immigrants have lost. Monica works to strengthen the Hispanic community and collaborates with organizations and individuals to strengthen the community as a whole.
