If Client provides credit card information to Accruent, Client authorizes Accruent to charge such credit card for all Services listed in an applicable Order Document for the Initial Term and each Renewal Term. Accruent is not responsible for any payment terms that are not expressly stated in this Agreement or the applicable Order Document.

1.2 Overdue Charges. Accruent may charge interest, at the rate of one and a half percent (1.5%) per month or the highest rate allowed by Applicable Law, whichever is less, on any overdue amounts that are not reasonably disputed by Client in writing and that remain outstanding following their due date.

1.4 Suspension for Non-Payment. In the event any fees not reasonably under dispute remain due and owing by Client more than sixty (60) days after the invoice date, Accruent may, without limiting any of its other rights and remedies: (i) suspend, terminate or otherwise limit Client's access to, or use of, all or any part of the Services, and (ii) require full payment of the overdue amount, and any other outstanding amounts, prior to further performance by Accruent.

5.1 Defined. Each party ("Disclosing Party") agrees that, in the course of this Agreement, it may, directly or indirectly, expose or provide the other party ("Receiving Party") with Disclosing Party's confidential or proprietary information, including, but not limited to: the terms and conditions of this Agreement, all trade secrets, inventions (whether or not patentable), intellectual property, software, computer programs, source code, object code, scripts, algorithms, features and modes of operation, techniques, processes, software design and architecture, design and function specifications, analysis and performance information, results of testing and benchmarking, documentation, details about products and services, product roadmaps, business plans, customer lists and customer-related information, financial information, proposals, budgets, as well as names and expertise of, and information relating to, vendors, employees, consultants, customers, partners, and prospects, know-how, ideas, and technical, business, pricing, financial and marketing information and strategies, and any other information that designated as confidential in writing or that Receiving Party reasonably should know is confidential or proprietary to Disclosing Party ("Confidential Information"). Further, Receiving Party may disclose Disclosing Party's Confidential Information if it is compelled by law to do so, provided that Receiving Party gives Disclosing Party prior notice (to the extent legally permitted) and reasonable assistance, at Disclosing Party's cost, if Disclosing Party wishes to contest such disclosure.

5.4 Equitable Relief. The Receiving Party acknowledges that breach of Section 5 may result in irreparable harm to the Disclosing Party, the extent of which could be difficult to ascertain, and that money damages may be inadequate. Accordingly, the Disclosing Party may be entitled, in addition to all other rights and remedies, to seek equitable relief, including an injunction and specific performance, in the event of any attempted or actual breach of this Section 5, without the necessity to prove actual damages or post a bond or other collateral.

6. INDEMNIFICATION

6.1 Accruent Indemnification. Subject to Section 6.3 below, Accruent will defend and pay the defense costs of, indemnify and hold Client harmless from and against all damages, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) finally awarded by a court of competent jurisdiction, or those damages, costs and expenses agreed to by the parties in a monetary settlement of such action, for any Claim brought against Client by a third party alleging that the SaaS Services or Software, when used in accordance with this Agreement, infringe such third party's registered patents, copyrights or trademarks as of the Effective Date. Subject to Section 6.3 below, Client will defend and pay the defense costs of, indemnify and hold Accruent harmless from and against all damages, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) finally awarded by a court of competent jurisdiction, or those damages, costs and expenses agreed to by the parties in a monetary settlement of such action, for: (i) any Claim brought against Accruent by a third party alleging that the Client Data, any Client intellectual property, or any other content provided to Accruent, or Client's use of the SaaS Services or Software in violation of the terms and conditions of this Agreement, infringes such third party's intellectual property, privacy or other personal rights; or (ii) Client's breach of Section 3.8 or 3.9. This Section states Client's entire liability to Accruent, and Accruent's sole remedy for any Claim for indemnification.

6.3 Indemnification Procedure. The indemnification obligations hereunder are conditioned on the indemnified party: (i) giving prompt written notice of any Claim of which it becomes aware to the indemnifying party; (ii) giving the indemnifying party sole control of the defense and settlement of the Claim; provided that the indemnifying party may not settle any Claim in a manner adverse to the indemnified party or which imposes any financial obligation on the indemnified party without the indemnified party's prior written consent; and (iii) providing the indemnifying party, at the indemnifying party's cost, with all reasonable information and assistance relating to the Claim and reasonably cooperates with the indemnifying party's counsel. The indemnified party may participate at its own expense in the defense of any such Claim, provided that such participation is not disruptive to the indemnifying party's defense of the Claim. "Claim" as used herein means any action, suit or proceeding brought by a third party against an indemnified party in respect of any allegation for which indemnity may be sought.
