Addendum

Agency: Community Action Council for Lexington-Fayette, Bourbon, Harrison and Nicholas Counties, Inc.

Program Name: Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) and Foster Grandparent Program (FGP)

LFUCG Extended Social Resource Grant Program FY16 Funding: $27,569

Program Summary: RSVP and FGP provides volunteer opportunities for Lexington’s seniors, ages 55 and over. These programs mobilize more than 135 seniors in Fayette County who contribute more than 53,000 volunteer hours, impacting an estimated 1,500 people annually. Both programs provide direct services to people in all phases of life with an emphasis on improving educational outcomes and marketable job skills, fostering intergenerational learning, and bolstering self-esteem and mental health. The following provides a brief overview of what each of these programs has to offer.

The FGP program has two overarching goals: narrow the achievement gap among children with disabilities needing additional supports to achieve educational outcomes and provide positive civic engagement activities for seniors with low-income. With services offered weekly, approximately 31 senior volunteers work individually with more than 125 identified children throughout the school year to prepare them to enter school “ready to learn.”

The RSVP program provides volunteer opportunities for seniors in a variety of disciplines, utilizing their knowledge base and skill set to provide critical support to program partners. Approximately 105 seniors annually volunteer at partner stations such as the Veteran’s Administration Hospital, One Parent Scholar House, and local community gardens. RSVP volunteers assist community members in learning crucial skills, such as budgeting and interpersonal communication, provide staff support at local food banks, and much more.

These two programs coordinate CAC’s Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service project—“Back-A-Vet.” Annually, the Back-A-Vet program collects and distributes essential supplies for at least 200 military veterans experiencing homelessness.

Long-Term Program Goals: The long-term goal of the RSVP and FGP programs is to organize approximately 136 senior participants to utilize their skills and knowledge in order to increase the outcomes and human service impact of other programs, thus increasing the economic development of the community at large.
