RE: God's Pantry Food Bank OGI Letter of Engagement

To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for the opportunity to be a part of the new Opportunity Grant Initiative. God's Pantry Food Bank (GPFB) has a long history of collaboration in our community and we look forward to formalizing some of our existing partnerships in our combined effort to overcome the academic achievement gap in our community.

I. Program and Service Delivery Plan

The Fayette County Pantry Program has been in place since 1955 when Mim Hunt founded God's Pantry. As the organization has grown in the ensuing 60 years, serving Lexington's hungry families has continued to be a high priority, even as our service area has grown to include 50 counties of Central and Eastern Kentucky.

In its current form, the Fayette County Pantry Program is serving an average of more than 2,000 Lexington families each month. Of those households, 41% include one or more children under the age of 18. Pantry space is donated by four partners: Broadway Christian Church, Central Christian Church, Community Action (Cambridge Drive location), and St. Luke United Methodist Church. Partners provide space and volunteers; GPFB provides all product, daily stocking of the pantries by employees, and one full time employee who oversees all aspects of the program. Pantry visits are scheduled by volunteers sited at our Jaggie Fox Way headquarters and data is maintained by GPFB. All four pantries are open for at least one session Monday through Friday and each session can accommodate 25 households. A household is currently permitted up to four times in a six-month time period and on average, takes home 70 or more pounds of food, or enough to provide one week's worth of food.

II. Potential Outputs and Projected Outcomes

- A. Output: Create one additional point of contact (email, phone call, or face-to-face) with all Fayette County Public School Family Resource Center or Youth Center staff to ensure all appropriate staff are aware of this resource. Outcome: A total of two direct points of contact per fiscal year with FCPS personnel.

B. Output: Create a process that enables Fayette County Public School Family Resource Center or Youth Center staff the option of submitting referrals online, reducing the time it takes to make a referral, and improving access to the pantries for families. Outcome: Increase referrals from Fayette County Public School Family Resource Center or Youth Center staff by 10% over the same period the year before.

III. Engagement and Partnership Strategy

God's Pantry Food Bank will strengthen our existing partnership with Fayette County Schools and extend referral privileges to both the Carnegie Center for Literacy & Learning and the Urban League of Lexington.

Every Fayette County school and program should have a staff member aware of the opportunity to get a family help through the Fayette County Pantry Program. Currently, we brief FCPS staff on general pantry referrals at the same time as meetings to sign up families for the annual Sharing Thanksgiving distribution. However, with the OGI, we intend to have an additional point of contact between January 2016 and April 1, 2016 (exact method TBD after consulting with FCPS staff) to ensure any family that has children in the FCPS system has the nutritional support necessary to perform well in school. During the period January 1, 2015 – June 30, 2015, GPFB received pantry referrals from Fayette County School personnel for 169 households, with a streamlined referral process we hope to see a 10% increase in the number of referrals.

IV. Budget Narrative

Fayette County Public Schools report that 22,247 students living in poverty were enrolled in the school system in 2015. Last year the Fayette County Pantry Program served 20,700 children. Our city's children will only thrive if they have enough food for themselves, and for their family, to lead a healthy, active life. Children who suffer from hunger cannot grow or learn properly and that affects all of us and the health of our city.

The Fayette County Pantry Program costs for the second half of FY16 (January 1, 2016 through June 30, 2016) total $140,674, we propose attributing the grant to the following costs of this program:

Item	Cost
Food purchases	$66,000
Salaries and benefits	$36,490
Transportation	$26,982
Occupancy, Warehouse & Supplies	$8,154
Equipment, Software & Support	$3,048
Total	$140,674

Sincerely,

Marian F. Guinn
