Addendum

Program Name: Pregnant and Parenting Women at Chrysalis Court

LFUCG Extended Social Resource Grant Program FY16 Funding: $87,500

Program Summary: The Chrysalis Court pregnant and parenting program provides residential treatment to 20 women and their children for approximately 6 months. Thus, 40 women will be served over the course of a year. Women entering treatment must be substance dependent, parenting, age 18 or over, and have completed previous episodes of treatment.

The services provided include integrated mental health and substance abuse treatment in both individual and group format conducted by a qualified mental health therapist who specializes in substance abuse treatment. Psycho-educational classes are provided including: Relapse Prevention, Corrective Thinking, Parenting Skills Training, Job Skills Training, and others. A Case Manager works with each woman to address any social problems, assists in linking them with partner agencies and monitors their progress.

While the children are living with or visiting their mothers, the Program therapist can observe the children. If emotional or behavioral problems are noted, the therapist is able to discuss the problems with the mother. The therapist and mother together may determine if professional help may be beneficial. The therapist will then assist the mother in arranging for the appropriate interventions at a partnering agency.

Sobriety is always the goal of the Chrysalis Court pregnant and parenting program. However, many other goals are also indicative of treatment success. These include: reduction of mental health symptoms, employment with a livable wage, safe and affordable housing, and improved physical health. It is the ultimate goal of the program to assist each woman in becoming good community citizens.

Long-Term Program Goals: The long-term goal of the program is to support women and their families in recovery from substance abuse focusing on healthy babies and children. Recognizing that addiction may affect many aspects of a woman's life, the Pregnant and Parenting Program provides a broad range of interventions to meet the needs of each woman and her children. Women often arrive at the program with few skills for living in addition to their substance dependence. These women often rely heavily on community resources to survive. When a woman leaves the program she is capable of supporting herself and her children and has evolved into a taxpaying community citizen. The Pregnant and Parenting Program is making a difference in many ways. Graduates are staying sober, working in jobs that support their families, living in their own homes, parenting their children, maintaining a healthy lifestyle, and giving back to their community.
